L V Prasad Rao

Some people leave such a lasting impact that they are remembered for generations to come. One such legend is Akkineni Lakshmi Vara Prasada Rao, known popularly as L V Prasad, an Indian film producer, actor, director and cinematographer. Indeed a true man of cinema. He dropped out of school at his village and escaped to Mumbai. Beginning humbly as a gate keeper at Mumbai's famous Dreamland Theatre, he went on to give Indian cinema many memorable box office hits. In 1982 he was awarded the prestigious Dadasaheb Phalke award for his remarkable contributions to Indian cinema. The very fact that the road in Banjara Hills, Hyderabad, where his production labs stand is named after him, is a testimony to the love that people have for this great man.

L V Prasad's association with LVPEI dates back to the establishment of the institution in 1987. After the grand success of his film "Ek Duje Ke Liye" at the box office, he wanted to invest the profits for a worthy cause. On coming to know of Dr Gullapalli N Rao's plans to start an Eye Institute in Hyderabad from his son, Ramesh Prasad, he decided to donate rupees one crore and five acres of land for establishing the state-of-the-art, Eye Institute. In recognition of this gesture, the Board of the Institute decided to name it after him. Healthy eyesight is needed to enjoy films, so there couldn't have been a better partnership.

Over the entire journey of the Institute, his family has continued to support the Institute's work. His son, Mr Ramesh Prasad, Managing Director of Prasad Film Laboratories, is a founder trustee of LVPEI and is the longest serving member of the Hyderabad Eye Institute's governing board, along with Dr Rao.

Kallam Anji Reddy Campus
Hyderabad Telangana

Dr Kallam Anji Reddy was a visionary, a scientist, an innovator, an entrepreneur and most importantly, a humanitarian. He was an eternal optimist who strongly believed “Everything cannot fail.” He continues to inspire many with his numerous achievements. Founder and Chairman of the Hyderabad based Pharmaceutical major Dr Reddy's Laboratories (DRL), Dr K Anji Reddy was the one who put India on the bulk drug map of the world and single-handedly turned it from an import dependent industry to the self-reliant export oriented industry that it is today. In 2011 he was honoured with the Padma Bhushan, the third highest civilian award, for his noteworthy contribution to the Indian Pharmaceutical Industry.

He believed in the power of good intention, and was particularly sensitive that people should be treated with dignity. His association with LVPEI began in 1995 with committing to an annual donation to support cataract surgeries for the economically underprivileged, in his father's memory. The involvement became deeper when he became interested in the institute's basic research activity and supported the creation of a molecular genetics laboratory named after him.

In 2007, the LVPEI Hyderabad campus was named the Kallam Anji Reddy campus in recognition of his tremendous support. He was also the Chairman for the Hyderabad Eye Research Foundation for 6 years, and it is in his honour that the Dr Kallam Anji Reddy Distinguished Chair was created at LVPEI. His attitude towards these gestures is best exemplified by what he once told Dr Rao “Don't worry about money, just keep up the good work!”. It is connected to VST- Ramnagar, Ramakrishna Math, CR Foundation-Kondapur & Calvary-Hyderabad vision centres.

Gullapalli Pratibha Rao Building

Mrs Gullapalli Pratibha Rao has been a pillar of strength for her husband Gullapalli N Rao, founder-chair, L V Prasad Eye Institute - support that has helped him lead LVPEI through all these years with a clear focus and dedication. Her commitment to the formation of LVPEI is best described by what she once said to Dr Rao, "I don't want you to ask anybody for any support until we give."

From raising funds for the institute to single-handedly developing the entire aesthetic profile of the institute and working relentlessly to implement this, creating a unique LVPEI identity; a place that "does not look or feel like a hospital", she has played a key role in the creation and development of the institute way before its inception in 1987. She also contributed significantly in designing the framework of LVPEI's Education Centre including many other areas of the institute's functions.

Following this, her role as Managing Editor of the Indian Journal of Ophthalmology was critical for the transformation of this journal from a struggling, low quality publication into a journal of international repute. She personally motivated the ophthalmic industry to partner in this major effort to enhance the image of Indian ophthalmology, thus making the journal financially sound. She is also one of the founders of the Loksatta Party, a civil society organization dedicated to governance reforms, where she plays an important leadership role.

It is only because of the commitment and perseverance of supporters like Mrs Gullapalli Pratibha Rao that LVPEI today has earned a name for itself internationally. In recognition of her unfailing support to the growth of LVPEI, LVPEI's primary building is named after her.

Velamati Soubhagyavathamma Building

A successful industrialist and a committed philanthropist, Sri V C Janardan Rao has been supporting charitable educational institutions and hospitals in Hyderabad, Eluru, and in his native village Kovvali (West Godavari District, Andhra Pradesh), for many years.

Sri Janardan Rao pioneered the manufacturing of fluid power equipment in the country. Today he has two companies - Veljan Hydrair Ltd and Veljan Denison Ltd, manufacturing a wide range of pneumatic and hydraulic products, which have an excellent export market.

On introduction through a mutual friend, Sri Vellanki Rao, he met Dr Gullapalli N Rao. A subsequent visit to the LVPEI campus convinced him to support the institute. His contribution was pivotal in creating the Velamati Soubhagyavathamma building, named after Sri Janardan Rao's mother. This has enhanced our capacity for patient care on this campus by 50 percent.

*Mithu Tulsi Chanrai Campus,
Bhubaneswar, Odisha
First patient seen: 3 July 2006*

Mithu Tulsi Chanrai Campus
Bhubaneswar, Odisha

Mr Jagdish M Chanrai, an entrepreneur and philanthropist, believes that the private sector should use its entrepreneurial expertise and professionalism for the greater good. This guided his efforts in establishing the Tulsi Chanrai Foundation in Nigeria and Mission for Vision in India.

Mr Chanrai has always been deeply conscious of the need to reduce the inequity in society, and this gave rise to his philosophy of "Caring Capitalism". It has always been his desire to devote a significant portion of his time and income to help those in need and he is an ardent advocate of this philosophy.

The eastern part of the country, marked by high levels of poverty and need, is largely bereft of the capacity to enable transformational change for people with visual impairment, both with avoidable and irreversible vision loss. It was in response to this need that Mr Chanrai decided to support the strengthening of LVPEI's Bhubaneswar campus to the stature of Centre of Excellence. The support was extended in collaboration with the Kewalram Chanrai Group and the Enpee Group. In appreciation of his support, the campus is now named Mithu Tulsi Chanrai Campus, after Mr Chanrai's father.

Mr Chanrai is confident that one day the world will be free of avoidable blindness. In his words, "If you have the right intentions and strive for excellence, others will join you, and if the essence comes from your heart, the forces of nature will be with you."

The initial support for the centre was provided by Operation Eyesight Universal, Canada. Mithu Tulsi Chanrai Campus is connected to two vision centres - Banra and Kamalapur.

GMR Varalakshmi Campus, Visakhapatnam, Andhra Pradesh

First patient seen: 7 July 2006

GMR Varalakshmi Campus,
Visakhapatnam, Andhra Pradesh

Over the past few years the one name that towers above all in infrastructure building in Andhra Pradesh is the GMR Group. The GMR Varalakshmi Foundation, named after Chairman Mr G Mallikarjuna Rao's wife, spearheads the group's initiatives in the areas of health, education, empowerment and hygiene. So when LVPEI was looking for partners to help take its tertiary care services to Visakhapatnam, the Foundation stepped in as a natural partner. In recognition, LV Prasad Eye Institute's Visakhapatnam campus has been renamed GMR Varalakshmi campus. The initial support for the centre was provided by Operation Eyesight Universal, Canada.

30 Vision Centres are connected to GMRV Campus - Shrungavarapukota, Chodavaram, Revidi, Gajapathinagaram, K Kotapadu, Yalamanchili, Kailasapatnam, Govindapuram, Kothavalasa, Kasimkota, Araku, Garbham, Lakkavarapukota, Kothakota, Bhogapuram, Mandasa, Santhabommali, Meliyaputti, Pydibhimavaram, Tekkali, Hiramandalam, Gara, Ponduru, Kotturu, Narasannapeta, Parawada, Jami, Denkada, Vallampudi and Atchuthapuram. Kode Venkatadri Chowdary Campus
Vijayawada, Andhra Pradesh

Spectra Group of Companies' Chairman, Mr Kode Satyanarayana and his family is passionate about providing health care and old age care to the needy and educational scholarships to young people. A successful industrialist and a true philanthropist, Mr Satynarayana along with his family founded the Kode Venkatadri Chowdary Charitable Trust in the memory of his father, late Sri Kode Venkatadri Chowdary, who was the Municipal Commissioner of Vijayawada in 1947.

A firm supporter of the LVPEI model of service delivery, he has been supporting the institute since 2000. In 2010 Satyanarayana's family donated the land where the Kode Venkatadri Chowdary (KVC) campus stands today to develop the state-of-the-art eye hospital. The family extended their whole-hearted support by not only contributing financially but also by being involved in every aspect of the designing and construction of the campus. "It was only fitting to name the Vijayawada center after my father who was a pillar of strength and a beacon of light for all of us in the family," says Mr Satyanarayana.

In 2011 Mr Satyanarayana was awarded the best entrepreneur award by The JRD Tata Industrial Estate Association. The family members of Mr Satyanarayana include his wife Mrs Satya Gnana Prasunamba, his daughter and son-in-law Mrs Lalitha and Mr Athota Sudhakar, his eldest son and daughter-in-law Mr Durga Prasad (Additional Director General, Police) and Mrs Sujatha, his youngest son and daughter-in-law Mr Venkata Ramana and Mrs KV Sandhya and eight grandchildren, all of whom are professionally well qualified.
